

ALLOWING the FLOW

Relating From Your Authentic Self with Evelien Bus & Nuno Salema

Energy makes up the entire universe. Energy is in constant movement, flowing and transforming itself. We are energy too and we can flow with it or we can block it and suppress it.

Join Evelien and Nuno for this Allowing the Flow: Relating from your Authentic Self workshop. Their body-oriented approach to developmental trauma, rooted in a safe and welcoming environment, supports people to recognize and explore behavioral, emotional and relational patterns that hold them back and cut them off from their life energy.

Through Bodywork, Embodiment Practices, and Individual and Group Process Work participants of the workshop will benefit from a holistic perspective that integrates body, mind, heart and spirit as well as a deepening of their insights into their own personality, survival strategies and unique core qualities.

Evelien and Nuno are trained in Core Energetics and they feel passionate to work with clients both individually and in group settings, exploring subtle ways to work with the energy and supporting their clients to go deeper in their processes.
